SLAV School Leader's Award

The SLAV School Leader's Award is made to a school leader who demonstrates outstanding support of the school library and the work of the school library team. School leaders can be nominated by a library team member (SLAV membership required). Any school personnel who are members of the school leadership team are eligible to be nominated.

Award criteria

- recognition and articulation of the role of the library as integral to the learning and teaching program of the school,
- innovative support of a new learning program or approach undertaken by the library team,
- support for increased resources in recognition of the valuable role that the school library plays in the learning and teaching of the school.
- active and visionary championing of the need for an effective school library program.

Nomination guidelines

Nominations should include:

- a brief statement (approximately one page) describing the supportive actions of the nominee,
- documentation/evidence of specific examples of activities which support one or more of the above criteria.
